Hi Diane,

Looks like Matt has corrected the link on the HQ Large Sediments Sites public web page to the NRRB response to CSTAG recommendations document (DocID 534002).

I wasn't sure earlier where that link had come from. But I am so glad that you inquired and you caught this issue. Nice!! 😊

Now, we know there are multiple HQ locations where links to these types of documents are posted on EPA HQ public web pages. Also, it seems that I should have sent you this direct link to send to your HQ counterparts once the document was uploaded into SEMS-RM and published. And in my haste to send the link this morning while I was in a training class, it had one incorrect character. Here is the link that I should have sent to you from the beginning: <https://semspub.epa.gov/src/document/02/534002>

Hey Diane,

I think that was a mistake on our end. I think we've got it sorted out now. Would you take a look and confirm (<https://www.epa.gov/superfund/large-sediment-sites-tiers-1-2>)?

-Matt

Hi Diane,

The correct PDF file was uploaded to the HQ public web page for CSTAG documents. Not sure where you were getting the links you listed in your email below, but yes indeed those two links are to the same document. The link to the publicly available NRRB Response to CSTAG comments is: <https://semspub.epa.gov/src/document/02/534002>

Please let me know if I can assist with adding this direct link to this document in the Site Profile Page for the Diamond Alkali Co site.

Thanks for your assistance. However, the wrong document was uploaded to Regional Response to CSTAG Recommendations, May 2018 (PDF)(x6pp, 2.8 MB). It is the same as the document in this link: CSTAG Updated Recommendations for the Lower Passaic River Site, April 2018 (PDF)(x6pp, 2.8 MB).

I have attached the correct document. Please adjust.

Thanks,

Melinda, you go the correct people.

Sarah is the new contractor supporting the OSRTI records center and is taking over these duties from me. You might also cc Dave Reynolds, as he is in charge of some national collections (Decision Documents and FYRs). Not this one, however.

I do think that our Document Specific Indexing and Processing Standards for decision documents and FYR collections provide the option for adding you or someone in the regional side to those collection groups. That way you can automatically add your regional documents to those collections. This only applies, currently, to Decision Document and FYR collections.

I can't really think of why we should allow those select same regional people to be added to the CSTAG and NRRB collections in order to quickly add regional responses (like the one you are adding).

Thoughts?

Subject: Request to add DocID R2-534002 to HQ SC32313

Hi Ross,

This request is to have DocID R2-534002 added to the Published HQ Special Collection – Contaminated Sediment Technical Advisory Group (CSTAG) Documents – HQ SC32313. This region 2 document is related to DocID R11-100001369 which is already included in the SC32313 and available through the public site pages.

I have cc'd Sarah Monheim because SEMS is showing her UserID as the Doc Creator for DocID R11-100001369.

Please advise if I should send this request to someone else. Thank you!!
